Origin of Term "Fifth Column"

(From Time Magazine)

You were among the first ones to use the expression "fifth column." What is the origin of the saying and what are the other four?

Dr. Marcus Schramm

New York City.

Inventor of the historic phrase was Franco's General Emilio Mola. Said he in a broadcast after the fall of Toledo: "We have four columns advancing Madrid. The fifth column (sympathizers within the city) will rise at the proper time." Loyalist response: wholesale executions in Madrid.—Ed.

Hopper Threat May Be Less Severe

Danger of grasshopper damage to crops in Alberta this year probably will be less severe than in recent years, officials of the provincial department of agriculture believe.

On the whole, the grasshopper infestation is not causing alarm, it was stated.

In previous years, the province has spent around $100,000 in its "hopper" campaigns; it is possible that this year the costs will not exceed $25,000, it was stated.

"We do not anticipate the serious outbreaks that we have had in recent years," said an official. "The most dangerous section is in the southeast corner of this province, running south of Medicine Hat and west to the Cypress Hills."

"In this section, however, we have the situation well in hand as adequate supplies of poison bait have been assembled to meet demands."

Other infested stretches are reported to be between Bassano and Drumheller and in an area between Gleichen and Macleod.

Wheat Futures Prices Pegged

Government Intervenes in Pegging; Prices Fall as Result of Changing War Picture

Wheat prices at Winnipeg have been pegged at the request of the Dominion government, the regulation becoming effective on May 18. This followed the 23 cent drop in price during the week. The new ruling means that no trades can be made in wheat at prices less than the Saturday finish.

Hon. J. A. MacKinnon told the House of Commons that fear of lost markets because of changing war conditions was one factor responsible for the decline in wheat prices. This led the government to intervene by pegging. The break in Chicago wheat futures was even more drastic. On Saturday, May 11, the May wheat at Winnipeg closed at 89¢ cts. and one week later, on Saturday, May 18, the May wheat sold as low as 60¢ cts.

When the final quotations were given on Saturday, May wheat was quoted at 69½ cts. Another factor in the break was considerable selling by exporters against contracts which were cancelled on account of the purchasing countries being involved in the war. It is needless to say that the Canadian wheat board took no action which would in any way aggravate the situation.

President Roosevelt may act to halt the recent sharp declines. This may take the form of a loan program. Last year this plan resulted in a national average at about 63 cts., including rates for grain stored on farms.

Regina soldiers and civilians raided several places suspected of celebrating German victories. Despite heavy police patrols much damage was done.

The clang of war munition factories working full time, rivalled the church bells in Britain which called forth people to the national day of prayer for Allied victory on Sunday, May 26th.

Unqualified Invitation

FIFTH column activities in European countries have roused Canada to a sense of vulnerability in this respect. Measures are being taken to check any enemy demonstrations in this country, and keep strict supervision of all suspects. This is wise safeguard taken in respect to established residents.

Canada's position is complicated however, by the strong bid that is being made to encourage American travel in this country. Those who are apprehensive of foes on every side, fear that the wholehearted invitation for Americans to come in to Canada with a minimum of red tape at the border, would pave the way for entrance of many enemy aliens now living in United States.

This puts Canada in a difficult spot. Alarmists would check and double check every individual coming across the border for a day or a week. It takes no effort of imagination to realize how chilling such examination might be to the cheery American coming across with nothing but goodwill in his heart—particularly when he has been so cordially invited for months past. Such precautions might have repercussions which would be detrimental from many angles and for a long period of time. The open door policy which prevails on the border, and which is the pride of Canada and United States, leaves both countries vulnerable, not only in tourist season but at any time during the year. So far as is known, neither country has had any cause to regret this friendly intercourse, and it has not been abused.

One important point is that Canada needs every dollar of American money that tourists may bring in, in order to purchase American war material. The flow of dollars will be dependent on the treatment which Americans receive at the border and while in Canada. In strict check is kept on all incoming cars, without the natural course of procedure in both countries, a fairly travellers being aware of the check. The authorities of both countries have every facility for following the movements of visitors, and can locate them if the need rises.

The most important essential seems to be not a lot of

DISCUSSED BY H. C.

The "inconceivable mistakes" for which Reynaud promises condign punishment are now a familiar feature in the war against Germany, and it is hard to say where they are attributed to stupidity and where to treachery. One big mistake is attributable to neither, viz., weakening the defences in France to go to the defence of Holland and Belgium. That must be attributed to a promise that should not have been made. Failure or neglect to destroy roads and bridges in the path of the Germans is inexcusable.

That subtle Italian, Mucchiavelli, offered advice that Mussolini should follow. It was that a power should not ally itself to a stronger power in war, because, if successful, the weaker power became a pawn, or rather a poor relation. This is not his language but it contains the idea. The Duce is going to be in that unhappy position, no matter how the war turns out.

The Minister of Defence comes back from overseas and says Canada never stood better in Britain than it does today. It is a perfectly safe observation, because no British statesman will deny it; but if Britain is satisfied with what Canada has done it only shows how little she expected. Eight months after the war started Mr. Rogers appoints a few recruiting officers and Mr. King appoints an Air Minister, yet they appear to be satisfied with their previous efforts.

Some representatives in Washington have ideas similar to Hitler's. They suggest that Britain should hand over some West Indian possessions on account of war debt. They take no thought of the people there. Whether they should be consulted in such a grave matter to them has not yet entered into the heads of those statesmen.

The fact that his son was killed by a German, and his fatherland overrun by thugs of the Hauptmann type, does not bother Lindbergh. He continues to earn the order of the Red Eagle given him by Goering for value received or expected.

Invaders have another advantage—they are not bothered with refugees. The duty of routing and feeding the refugees belongs to the defenders. That is a phase of warfare the Germans have not experienced for a hundred years. Let's hope, however.

When Mr. Howe explains that the delay in furnishing heavy equipment for the troops is due to the unwillingness of British industrialists to share the designs, you are free to accept it, and we are free to say we do not believe a word of it. Since the war began we have been told our efforts were linked up with British plans and we got away with it. Now Mr. Howe goes a bit farther. If we are behind in anything, the British are to blame.

exasperating red tape and show of authority, but shrewd officials at the boundary. These men should be specially qualified in spotting nationalities and languages. They must be courteous and intelligent, and they must also be good judges of character. Vigilance can easily be maintained without affronting guests or making them feel that they are under surveillance. If we want to win friends—and we do—we must take something on trust.

WE'RE talking here to those thousands who have not yet achieved a lifetime ambition. That is to say, they don't yet own a McLaughlin-Buick.

We want to point out a few facts about the Buick SPECIAL pictured here—show how it opens the door on a golden opportunity.

Step into this sleek sweetheart. Your treadle foot touches off a trigger-quick Dynaflex straight-eight engine that's just about the smoothest thing that runs, thanks to micro-poised-balancing after assembly.

Swing through the gear changes and you find the same easy, finger-flick shifting as in the most costly Buick. And the same recoil-mounted Knee-Action soaking up bumps before they reach your hand on the steering wheel. Take a rough road in stride. You'll find that stout BuCoil Springs muffle out the bumps—and they never need lubrication. Look out through the easy-vision Safety Glass in every window. Check up on the equipment: Two-Way Direction Signal with automatic cut-off, built-in automatic choke, high-capacity water pump—they're all there. And, when you count in the included equipment, the SPECIAL costs little more than some sixes with lower advertised prices. So look into the Buick SPECIAL and "step up" to the car you've always wanted.

You can take a trial drive any time just by asking your Buick dealer.

IN THE QUAIN BOOK OF THE 16th CENTURY

In 300 years the art of brewing became an important industry in England. First in the 13th century brewing became known through waters of Burton on the Trent. Of the many books on the subject of Beer, one in particular deserves special mention. In 1573, H. Knarst published a work in five volumes at Eerfurt with the quaint title: "On the Divine Noble Gift, the Philosophical High Dear and Wonderous Art to Brewing Beer."

TO-DAY..... People rely upon THEIR BANKS

LONG past is the day when a hole in the ground was regarded as the best place in which to keep savings. Modern banking, evolved by man as a convenience to serve his developing needs, now provides the solution. As a depository for his money today the Canadian relies upon his bank. ¶ From the days of the old-world goldsmiths of centuries ago, to banks, bank notes and deposit accounts which meet so efficiently the greater business and human needs of today, is a far cry indeed. ¶ Canada's chartered banks, with their wide distribution of branches throughout the Dominion, now provide deposit and other banking services in line with up-to-date requirements and in keeping with Canada's position as an important factor in world trade.

[In war, as in peace, Canada's Chartered Banks maintain, uninterrupted, all their services to depositors, farmers, manufacturers, exporters—facilitating the nation's business—looking forward to peace with freedom as the only sure basis for enduring prosperity.]

Unless an extension has been granted by the Board, any resident who has not complied with the terms of the Order on or before May 31st, 1940, will be in default and subject to the penalties provided in the Order.

Those To Make Up Third Division

To be Composed of Units From All Parts of the Dominion, and Every Part of the Service

Hon. Norman Rogers has announced details in connection with the organization of the 3rd division. Every effort will be made to have all parts of Canada represented in accordance with population.

Units for every arm of the service will form the division.

As in the case of staff and commanding officers of the units of the Canadian Active Service Force, already serving, in which 56 per cent have had previous overseas service, the same consideration will be given to officers with former service in the Canadian Expeditionary Force when selections are being made for the 3rd Division.

Some of the mobilized units which, as a result of changes in war organization, have become surplus will be included in composition of the 3rd Division.

British Drive On Pro Nazi Suspects

Sir Oswald Mosley, leader of the British Union of Fascists was arrested last week as the drive against the fifth column went on in Britain.

Captain Archibald Ramsay, Conservative member of parliament, was arrested earlier. He was formerly of the Coldstream Guards.

Captain Franz Rintelen, foremost German spy in the last war, and living for some years in England, has also been arrested.

Mosley and eight lieutenants are in Brixton prison. Mosley's supporters demonstrated with protesting leaflets. An official of the ministry of Health, was found to have secret tie-up with the Nazis.

Extensive arrests were reported in Eire and Ireland, including many outlawed Irish Republicans. Ireland is being closely watched as a possible base for attack on England.

Australia Has 20,000 Men Abroad

Mistaken Impression Re Australia's Contribution; 6th Division Was First Sent Overseas

(From Cowichan Leader)

The feeling exists that Canada is not "all out" in her war effort. However, incorrect comparisons have been drawn in connection with the announcement that Australia is preparing her seventh overseas division. The fact is that Australia's first five overseas divisions served in the war of 1914-18. For the present war the numbering was continued and the sixth division was thus the first sent in 1940. The seventh (or second for this war) is now in preparation. There are about 20,000 Australian troops now abroad. Authorized new enlistments will bring this to 48,000. Reinforcements will require 40,000 more. In addition, the Australian Air Force requires an enlistment of 57,473, to be completed by March, 1943. Many of these will receive advanced training in Canada.

"Use any yardstick you like," say Pontiac owners. "You won't find any car that gives you so much for so little as the new 1940 Pontiac!"

It's not hard to figure out. Pontiac is a big car, with all the advantages only a big car can offer—yet Pontiac prices start with the lowest!

Is it any wonder that so many small-car owners are now swinging over to Pontiac? Take the advice of these people and see this new Pontiac. Check all the facts and you'll find this big car is actually just as easy to buy and just as economical to own as a small car.

King George Asks People For Display of Courage

Nazi Germany He Said
Would Bring Descent of Darkness or the Ruin of Britain's World.

In his May 24 broadcast, heard over the Empire, King George said that British enemies were seeking no mere territorial conquest, but the complete overthrow of the British Empire and after that, the world.

He said in part:—To all of us in this Empire, to all men of vision and goodwill throughout the world, the issue is now plain; it is life or death for us all. Defeat will not mean some brief eclipse from which we shall emerge with strength renewed—it will mean destruction of our world as we have known it and the descent of darkness upon its ruins.

New Vision
Our one object has always been peace; peace in which our institutions may be developed, the condition of our people improved, and the problems of government solved in the spirit of goodwill. This peace they have taken from us and they are seeking to destroy all that we have striven to maintain. Against our honesty is set dishonesty, against our faithfulness is set treachery, against our justice brute force.

At this moment our thoughts turn to our fighting men and to those who love them, mothers, wives and sweethearts at home. Beside them stand soldiers of our old Ally, France, and with them Poland and Norway, Belgium and Holland, people upon whose peaceful lands has fallen all the horror of treacherous and unprovoked aggression.

Turn To God

At this fateful hour we turn, as our fathers before us have turned in all times of trial, to God the most high. Here in the Old Country I have asked that Sunday next shall be observed as a day of national prayer. It may be possible for many of our brethren across the seas to join their prayers with ours. Let us with one heart and soul humbly but confidently commit our cause to God and ask His aid that we may valiantly defend the right as it is given to us to set it.

WAR SAVINGS CERTIFICATES

A direct obligation of the Dominion of Canada

"Since the momentous day of last September, hundreds of thousands of Canadians have been asking themselves, 'What can I do to help win the war?'"

"One answer is, 'By saving!' Every man, woman and child in the Dominion can now make a direct and continuing contribution to Canada's war effort by saving not only his dollars, but also his nickels, dimes and quarters to buy Canada's War Savings Certificates."

MINISTER OF FINANCE.

WAR SAVINGS CERTIFICATES: are repayable in seven and one-half years. If you hold them to maturity, you will receive 3% on your money — your investment will increase by 25%. They are sold as follows:—

For a $5 certificate you pay $4
For a $10 certificate you pay $8
For a $25 certificate you pay $20
For a $50 certificate you pay $40
For a $100 certificate you pay $80

TO FIT ANY BUDGET: You can take advantage of this patriotic and profitable savings plan, whether your savings are measured in dollars or in occasional nickels, dimes and quarters. Canada's War Savings Certificates are expressly designed to appeal to the man or woman of modest means who cannot afford to subscribe to war bonds of larger denominations, but who desires to do something tangible to assist the Country's war effort.

CHILDREN TOO: Even children can purchase War Savings Certificates, using their coppers, nickels and dimes to buy War Savings Stamps at 25c each. Sixteen of these stamps will buy one $5 Certificate.

DEVELOP THE SAVING HABIT: You can purchase as many War Savings Certificates as you like, up to $500 maturity value in any calendar year. Buy them when you wish — buy them often. Remember, systematic saving is successful saving — and your Country needs your money.

REGISTRATION: Each War Savings Certificate is registered in one name only, and is not transferable.

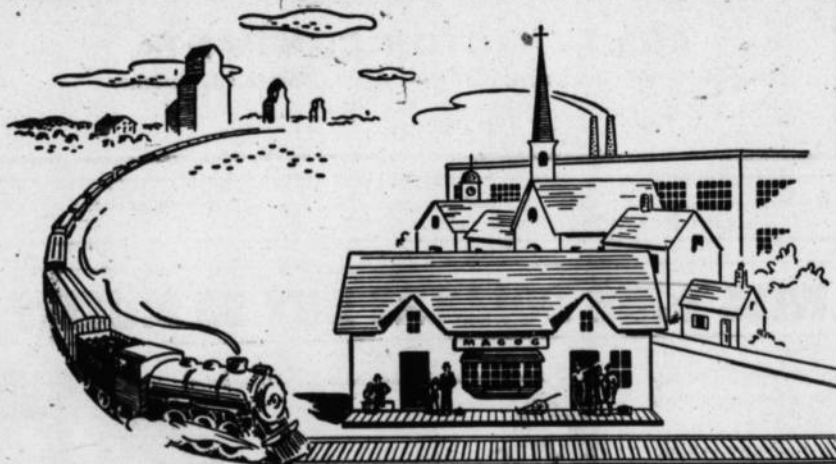

REDEMPTION: War Savings Certificates cannot be called for redemption by the Government prior to their date of maturity. The owner, however, has the option, after six months, of redeeming his certificates for cash at fixed redemption values. In urgent cases, advance notice will be waived.

MAGOG....

Customer of the West

ALMOST everybody in Magog, Quebec, eats bread made from Western wheat flour. They also eat a good deal of Western meats, poultry, butter and other necessities.

Magog is able to be a steady customer of the three Prairie Provinces because Dominion Textile Company pays into this town about $73,000.00 in wages every fortnight. (Employee earnings per hour have increased 22.7% from 1929 to 1940, although sales prices have declined 16.2%.)

As in other communities of Quebec, Ontario and the Maritimes, the main source of income for Magog people is textile wages. Textiles provide the second largest sum of wages paid by any industry in the whole Dominion. Textile wages help the East to be a good customer of the West.
